Donation Agreement

We appreciate and are grateful for your donation to the Timmins Museum: NEC. We are a community museum that relies solely on community donations and these donations help us tell the story of the community and add to the collection for future generations.

The Timmins Museum is a public resource and are responsible for the presentation, promotion, and preservation of heritage and culture through our exhibitions, community education as well as programming. Part of a museum's role is to preserve items so that they can be safely accessed and used in the future for various reasons or occasions. Our collection consists of objects, photographs, videos, oral histories and more. We use images and artefacts for research, exhibitions, education for classes or other groups and more. Whatever is donated to us, we add to the collection and share it appropriately for the various reasons listed above. Your donation will contribute to our collection and rest assured that it is very important to us and will be kept in our care.
